April Author Talk

By Mary Williams

Students from Dr. Varley’s Advanced Poetry Class will read and discuss their poetry during our last author talk of the semester. Please join us in the Library on April 21 at 3:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served. Thanks to all who have attended the author talks this past year. Your participation has made each one a success. We will be continuing our talks in the fall. We already have two exciting authors lined up. Have a great summer and see you in September!

Library Satisfaction Survey

By Andrew Whitis

The Library is conducting a survey until the end of the semester to better understand your satisfaction with the Library, its collections, and services. It has been a couple of years since our last survey. We are hoping that the entire College community will participate. The survey is open to undergraduates, graduate and continuing education students, faculty, and staff.

The survey is on the web and will take approximately 10 minutes to complete. Go to http://www.surveymonkey.com/s.asp?u=29610996489 and let us know what you think.

Columbus Dispatch on Microfilm

By Mary Williams
We now have an additional way to access the Columbus Dispatch from 1980 through Oct.15, 2004. We have acquired the Dispatch on microfilm, from January 1, 1980 to October 15, 2004 from another college. NOTE: We will not receive any new rolls.

This microfilm collection is located in the same cabinets as the New York Times and Wall Street Journal. These cabinets are in the periodicals room in the lower level of the library next to the compact shelving. You can use the microfilm version of the Dispatch to track down photographs and other graphics that do not appear online in our full-text news databases.

Previously, our access to the Dispatch has been the current month in print and the full-text from January 1992 to the present through LexisNexis Academic.

You can use LexisNexis Academic as an index for the Dispatch. Articles copyrighted by the reporter will not appear in the database, as well as selected other material that appears in the daily print edition. You can browse the Dispatch microfilm if you know when an article appeared, or use LexisNexis to get a time frame before you start looking.
